I approach matters of (house) _____ in a (house sign) _____ way and this is where
I experience _____ (planets in house).

Example

I approach matters of (Third House) communication in a (Leo) outgoing & confident way and this is where I experience (Mars) action & motivation.

As you can see in this example, the Third House encompasses many different things but I've only written down "communication". Houses are complex and not everything will apply to you. You should feel free to pick and choose what resonates with you the most.

You can also write multiple sentences for each house! With this example, I could also write: "I approach matters of siblings in an outgoing & confident way."

Planets

SUN

Authentic self-expression. This is where my personality shines and I can be my true self.

MOON

My strongest emotional needs. In order to be truly happy, I need things to feel right here.

MERCURY

Curiosity and connection. This is what I like to learn about and share.

VENUS

Love and appreciation. This is what I value the most.

MARS

Action and motivation. This is what I'm driven by the most.

If in a Fire house (1, 5, 9), you may be motivated to become a leader.

JUPITER

Luck and opportunity.

This area is one of your greatest blessings—you're naturally lucky here and success comes to you easily.

If in a money-related house (2, 8), this may bring financial gain and wealth. If in a health-related house (1, 6, 8, 12), this may bring natural luck in health. If in an Air house (3, 7, 11), you can be a great speaker. If in a Fire house (1, 5, 9), you may be a trailblazer.

SATURN

Challenges and limitations.

This area is a source of difficulty or frustration. Often times, things get better as we grow older and learn Saturn's lessons. If you don't feel any difficulty, this can also be an area where you're asked to become a leader.

In a Fire house (1, 5, 9), you deal with issues of self-confidence or productivity. In an Earth house (2, 6, 10), you face issues of self-worth and effectiveness. In an Air house (3, 7, 11), you question whether you can depend on others. In a Water house (4, 8, 12), you struggle with inner strength or mental health.

Planets

URANUS

Sudden change and independent thinking.

This is the area where things tend to change suddenly and unexpectedly. You're more fickle here and can change your mind often. This is also the area where you think differently and reject the status quo. That's why this house is considered your secret superpower—what makes you stand out from the rest!

NEPTUNE

Confusion and imagination.

This area tends to feel confusing and unclear, as if surrounded by a thick blanket of fog. It's harder to see things clearly and it's difficult for you to set boundaries here. But this area is also the source of your biggest dreams and imagination. The challenge is to figure out whether your dreams are based on reality.

PLUTO

Transformation and power.

This is the area where you tend to feel passionate, emotional & powerful. You like to be in control here but you're also forced to compromise. This area will bring the radical transformation you need in order to reach your highest potential.
